The Catholic University of America
School of Library and Information Science

News Release

The Catholic University of America (CUA)
School of Library and Information Science (SLIS)

SLIS Program in School Library Media receives National Recognition by NCATE/AASL

The School of Library and Information Science (SLIS) at the Catholic University of America (CUA) is very pleased to announce that the National Council for the Accreditation for Teacher Education (NCATE), in collaboration with American Association of School Librarians (AASL), has nationally recognized the SLIS track in school library media within the master’s of science in library science program. The NCATE review of the program was comprehensive and officially recognizes that the SLIS program is fulfilling the high standards set forth by NCATE/AASL. For more information on the accreditation process of NCATE/AASL, please visit:

http://www.ncate.org/public/generalpublic.asp?ch=1 or http://www.ala.org/ala/mgrps/divs/aasl/index.cfm

Kimberly B. Kelley, Ph.D.
Associate Provost for Libraries and Dean, School of Library and Information Science
228 Marist Hall
The Catholic University of America
620 Michigan Avenue, NE
Washington, D.C. 20064
voice: 202-319-5085
fax: 202-319-5574
kelleyk@cua.edu